DENIES GRAFTING IN ARMY HARNESS

Company for Full Investigation of Contract for War Sales.

U. S. SIFTING MATTER
Official of Concern Says Government Could Not Sell Materials.

CONNIVANCE IS REFUTED
Department of Justice Probes Charges of Irregularities in Regard to Prices.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., May 10.

Attorney-General Daugherty said today that a thorough investigation is under way by the Department of Justice into the charges of graft and other irregularities in connection with War Department contracts for the sale of surplus army supplies.

He stated, following publication in THE NEW YORK HERALD this morning of an account of the Government's activities in this regard, that many contracts were being examined. He declined to go into details because, he said, such publicity might interfere with governmental action as well as be unfair to persons involved in the inquiry.

The Attorney-General said information had been submitted both to him and to President Harding in some cases. Asked about the United States Harness Company, the Attorney-General said it had been taken up, but he could not discuss it for the same reason that prevailed in other cases.
Attention was called to the harness company contract because recommendation already had been made by the Department of Justice for its cancellation.

Representative Graham (Ill.), who was chairman of the House Committee on War Department Expenditures, which brought charges of irregularities in contracts for the purchase and sale of leather goods, canned salmon and other supplies, said to-day:

"All the evidence in these cases, collected during last session by the Special House Committee on War Department Expenditures, was placed before President Harding last week. The President promised us the fullest cooperation in the matter, and assured us that prosecution would be the result if it were determined by the Department of Justice that cause for action existed."

"I have received information that this investigation has been started by the department and that the War Department is cooperating. I shall visit the two departments to-morrow to inquire as to the status of the investigations. I feel sure vigorous actions will be taken."

Harness Company Explains.
Joseph C. Byron, formerly a Major in the army and now treasurer of the United States Harness Company, which has a contract with the War Department for the sale of army harness and other supplies, to-day gave to THE NEW YORK HERALD a statement which explains the company's and the War Department's side of the case. The Department of Justice recommended a few days ago to the War Department that this contract be terminated, but Secretary of War Weeks asked for further reasons why this should be done.

Major Byron said the company was proceeding to carry out the contract "without the slightest fear of interruption," adding that the company knew there was not the slightest legal or just ground for cancelling it. Major Byron declared that the War Department already had completed an investigation of the subject and that the inspector general of the army had made a report in which he said among other things:

"The proposal of the United States Harness Company was received when all hope of disposing of the surplus equipment was gone and the proposal submitted was the only available and feasible way by which to market the property. The contract and its execution have been just and fair and the Government will receive reasonable return on the equipment. No party to the contract on either side has been acted by other than proper motives and there has been an entire absence of connivance or underhand methods on the part of any one, either before the contract was entered into or after its execution."

"The attacks on this contract have come from three sources:

Sources of Attack Named.

1. Those interests in the leather trade that desired, for purely selfish purposes, to have the Government store all leather equipment until it was rotten so that the surplus Government leather supplies would not be put on the market in competition with their business with the consequent reduction in cost to consumers.

2. Discharged temporary officers who desired to stay in the service and who are actuated by a malicious purpose to injure those whom they hold responsible for their discharge.

3. A comparatively few persons moved by what they believe to be partisan political considerations.

"Under the plan of the War Department's contract with the harness company the Government received the lion's share of the proceeds of every set of harness sold and at the same time the military harness is converted into a useful commercial article which is placed in the hands of the farmers at very reasonable prices. The result is that farm organizations everywhere are supporting the present plan of selling surplus war harness."

"The statement that the officers of the harness company practically 'gave' Government harness to themselves while they were officers of the War Department is without foundation in fact. No officer of the United States Harness Company had any connection with or authority over the sale of harness or any other Government surplus property whatever."

Major Byron said that neither he nor his associates had any fear of the outcome of a trial upon any indictments.

Taft for Judges' Gowns to Impress the People

BOSTON, May 10.—A beneficial moral effect is lost both on culprits before the bar and on spectators when judges do not wear gowns, former President William Howard Taft said to-day in an address at the Boston University School of Law. Judges should wear gowns for the sake of the impression upon observers, he asserted.

In parts of the West where judges are said to sit with their feet on the desks and smoke black cigars there may be a great deal more comfort, but there is a great loss of prestige, Mr. Taft added.

SENATE WILL PASS TARIFF BILL TO-DAY

Two New Hampshire Senators Only Republicans Who Oppose Measure.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., May 10.

The amendment to the Emergency Tariff bill, offered by Senator Knox (Pa.), to continue war control over the American dye industry will be adopted to-morrow when the Senate votes, according to Republican leaders.

It was predicted that the bill will pass by a large majority, with probably two Republican votes against it. Senator Edge (N. J.), who voted against the bill last Congress, announced on the floor to-day that he will vote for it, and Senator Colt (R. I.), who opposed it before, it was said will vote for it now.

Senators Moses and Keyes (N. H.), are counted as being against it. It was stated that the several Democratic Senators who voted for it before will again "support it."

Debate on the measure to-day included an explanation from Senator Edge as to his change in position and attacks on the bill by Senators Reed (Mo.), and Walsh (Mass.). They assailed it as a "fraud" upon the farmers, a "sham" and an "insult to the intelligence of the farmers" for whom it is passed primarily. Senator Gooding (Idaho), in his mild speech, announced that he would vote for the bill because of the aid it will give to live stock.

BERTRAND RUSSELL NOT

LONDON, May 11.—Earl Russell in a letter to the London Times, printed today, contradicts the "unauthenticated report of the death of my brother, Bertrand." Earl Russell says the Chinese Legation at his request officially inquired into the report and informed him that, although his brother had been ill with pneumonia, he was now recovering.

The Japan Advertiser of Tokyo on March 19 reported that Bertrand Russell, known as a philosopher, sociologist and mathematician, had died in Pekin late in March. On May 5 Mrs. Alys Whitell Russell was granted a divorce decree nisi against Russell on the grounds of desertion and misconduct.

The suit was not defended. Mrs. Russell before her marriage was Alys Smith, daughter of R. Pearsall Smith of Philadelphia.

of the Louvain professors who were invited to Harvard after the destruction of their university by the Germans in 1914.

SAYS ALIEN LAWS FAVOR GERMANS

Paris Newspaper Complains That Immigration Measure Admits So Many.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
Copyright, 1921, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau,
Paris, May 10.
The newspaper Avenir complains bitterly against the United States immigration provisions which would work to the disadvantage of France, and cautiously compares the proposed admittance of only a few thousands of French with Germany's possible quota of nearly 100,000.

"It was not really worth while fighting together for that interpretation of fraternity," says the newspaper. "It seems that the Americans have taken a malevolent pleasure in favoring our enemies or neutral while restricting our Latin allies. America's figures in any case prove indisputably that they have considered it preferable to accept only a few thousand French while welcoming 80,000 Austrians and a like number of Bolsheviks. This, no doubt, is what is called in diplomacy the favored treatment of a nation."

The Avenir suggests that the French would rather be treated as undesirable as France could then direct all her emigrants to her own colonies, where they probably would be less miserable than in Alsace, and perhaps would even find more gold.

CROWDER TO REMAIN IN CUBA FOR AWHILE

Will Not Return Until After Inauguration of Zayas.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., May 10.

Brig-Gen. Crowder will remain in Cuba until after the inauguration of the new President, Dr. Alfredo Zayas, on May 20.
While this Government fears no further political disturbances in Cuba, it is considered that Gen. Crowder, who went to Havana as the personal representative of the President, should be allowed to remain until after the inauguration of the new administration in office.

Gen. Crowder has been mentioned as the possible American Minister to Cuba, but it was not learned here to-day whether President Harding had reached any decision in regard to this appointment.

cal research work.

This was stated in a wireless message to the navy radio here to-day.

MONDELL PLACES BAN ON 'PORK BARRELL' BILLS

Says New Public Buildings Will Have to Wait.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., May 10.

"Pork barrel" bills will not appear on the calendars of the present Congress, Republican Leader Mondell informed the House to-day. He announced that no bill authorizing construction of new public buildings would be reported by House committees. Usually this measure has been one of the famous "pork barrels."

It is understood Mr. Mondell's statement of policy has the approval of President Harding, who has announced that he is desirous of most rigid economy in Government expenditures. Mr. Mondell explained that the economy programme made necessary the abandonment of the public buildings bill.

"Many members of Congress desire new post offices and public buildings for their districts, but we, as well as the executive departments, must practise economy, and the condition of the Treasury will not allow a large appropriation for such purposes," he said.

HUNT TESTIFIES IN BERGDOLL CASE

Commandant Whitewashed by Court-Martial, Charges
Kentucky Inquisitor.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The charge that Col. John E. Hunt, former Commandant at the disciplinary barracks at Governors Island, was "whitewashed" by a court-martial resulting from his alleged failure to take proper precautions to prevent the escape of G. C.
Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger, was made to-day at the end of a long session of the House investigating committee.

Called before the committee to tell what precautions he had taken to safeguard Bergdoll while on a gold hunting expedition to the Maryland mountains, Col. Hunt had been on the stand for nearly five hours when he was taken in hand by Representative Johnson (Ky.), Democrat, for cross-examination.

Some of the questions put to the witness were extremely blunt and of a personal nature. Then, after asking for a yes or no answer whether he had been given a fair trial, and whether he had been aggressively prosecuted, Mr.
Johnson proceeded to quote from the court-martial records certain statements by the prosecuting officer directed at the good standing of the accused.

Extracts from the Judge-Advocate's address quoted by Mr. Johnson set forth that the prosecution did not think or intimate that Col. Hunt wanted Bergdoll to escape or was in any conspiracy to that end, and that it was realized Hunt was "the sorriest of all" that the prisoner go away.

Sympathy was expressed by the prosecutor for the Colonel, now retired, and it was mentioned that he had made "a magnificent record as an officer," but that this was not the question at issue and that there had been a technical violation of military regulations in a way to bring discredit upon the army.

Col. Hunt, recently recovered from a long illness, took no part in the discussion. In the course of his examination he described plans for Bergdoll to leave under military guard for Hagerstown in search of the buried gold, and declared no officer was available at the time and that he had the utmost confidence in Sergeant O'Hare, who was directly responsible for the safe return of the prisoner.

Asked by Chairman Peters if the escape was due to his own fault or to the incompetency of the guard, Hunt denied he was responsible for the man's escape, and added that he did not want to characterize the conduct of the sergeant as dereliction of duty.

Dutch Government soon will issue an orange book containing the exchange of view between Holland and the American Government regarding the Djambi oil fields.

HOUSE CUTS ARMY DOWN TO 150,000

Directs War Secretary to Give Discharge to Men Who File Their Applications.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., May 10.

That "little army men" again are in control of the House, was shown to-day when by a vote of 193 to 159 an amendment to the army bill was adopted reducing the average size of the army to 150,000 men during the next fiscal year.

The action was taken despite recommendations of Secretary Weeks that the strength should be 182,000 and of Republican leaders who wanted not less than 168,000 men. Miss Alice Robertson, Republican from Oklahoma, opposed the reduction.

Soon afterward the "little army men" won another victory by forcing adoption of an amendment by Representative Hull (Iowa) directing the Secretary of War to discharge all men on their application until the army is cut to 150,000 men. This amendment was adopted, 193 to 159. Then the entire bill, carrying about $320,000,000, was passed without a record vote.

Just before the final vote an unexpected attempt was made by Representative Herrick (Okla.) to have a peace resolution attached to the bill as a rider, but it was ruled out of order.
Mr. Herrick also sought to have the American troops returned from abroad, but his amendment also was ruled out of order. In view of the present attitude of Republicans that the peace resolution should be delayed the Herrick amendment caused an uproar in the House.

The debate disclosed that the strength of the army is now about 230,000 men, due to vigorous recruiting by Secretary Baker. It has been reduced about 5,000 in the last two months.

Because of the present situation Republican Leader Mondell said that to maintain an average of 150,000 during the next fiscal year, beginning July 1, so that the appropriation allowed today will be adequate, it will be necessary to reduce the army to 120,000 by July 1, 1922. It cannot be reduced to 200,000 by July 1, he said.
